LIVED IN LA CROSSE 33 YEARS

Death Said by Physician to Have Been Caused by Wiping His Eyes with Handkerchief

After several hours of unconsciousness C. C. Hamilton, clerk of the La Crosse county circuit court, died at the St. Francis hospital of septic infection at 3 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Hamilton, during the thirty-three years of his residence in La Crosse, was one of the most prominent members of the Knights of Pythias lodge. At the time of his death he held the position of senior vice commander of the Wilson Colwell post of the G. A. R., of which he has been an active member for years. Prior to his election to the office of clerk of court in 1912 he held the position of tax assessor for the city of La Crosse.

C. C. HAMILTON

Ill One Week
A week ago today Mr. Hamilton performed his duties at the court house but late in the afternoon complained of feeling ill. The next day he was unable to attend to his work owing to an attack of quinsy.

Tuesday morning he developed blood poisoning, which, according to his physician, was probably caused by wiping his eyes with a handkerchief. His condition grew worse until Tuesday night, when he was moved to St. Francis hospital. Yesterday his physician announced all hope of recovery gone, declaring it was only a matter of hours until death would claim him.

Born Near New York
Mr. Hamilton was born at Norwich, N. Y., October 2, 1842. In 1861 he enlisted in the 89th New York Volunteers and served throughout the war as a commissary sergeant.
After the end of the civil war he moved to Sparta, where he married and later became a commercial traveler, representing a Chicago grocery house.

Thirty-three years ago he came to La Crosse and worked in the employ of the late I. G. Loomis until a few years ago. He then became tax assessor in La Crosse and in the fall of 1912 was elected to his present position.

Prominent K of P.
For many years Mr. Hamilton has stood out as one of the leading members of the John P. Linton lodge No.
27 of the Knights of Pythias. At various times he has held the positions of master at arms, master commander, vice chancellor and master at work. For twenty years he officiated as master of the exchequer and for more than ten years represented his lodge as delegate at the annual grand lodge convention.

He has also been among the most active members of the G. A. R., and was highly esteemed by his brother veterans.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. C.
C. Hamilton of this city, and one son, Harry Hamilton, whose home is in Chicago.

Funeral Tomorrow
The funeral will be held under the joint auspices of the Knights of Pythias and the Wilson Colwell post of the G. A. R. The Knights of Pythias

ALLEGED UNFAIR DISCRIMINATION

Preamble to Their Resolution Asks that There Be "Free Trade" Between States

Through the agency of the Pine Creek (Minnesota) local of the American Society of Equity, the farmers of Houston county have taken the free bridge problem directly to the La Crosse city council.

A petition, signed by the officials of the local on the authority of a unanimous vote of a recent meeting of the society, was today filed with Mayor Ori Sorensen by Judge James Farrell of La Crescent. The petition and resolutions were accompanied by a letter asking the mayor to personally present them to the council.

Sent to Societies

In addition, copies of the resolutions and petition were mailed to the Retail Merchants' association and the Retail Grocers' association, with the request that these societies co-operate to secure favorable action upon the petition.

The resolution pledges the farmers to work for the cession of Petti-bone Island to La Crosse.

All the papers in the case are signed by "Pine Creek Local, American Society of Equity, Wm. Vagland, president; James Farrell, vice president; Wm. F. Weist, secretary." The resolutions and petition follow:

The Petition
"To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of La Crosse:

"Whereas, it is agreed between the people of La Crosse and residents of Minnesota within the natural trade limit of that city that we have a common interest in dealing together, and

"Whereas, the farmers in Minnesota feel that to charge them tolls for entering the La Crosse market, there to sell in competition with the Wisconsin farmers, who pay no tolls, is an unfair discrimination, and

"Whereas, farmers on the Minnesota side cannot feel justified in investing in the proposed co-operative packing plant in LaCrosse while that discrimination continues, and

"Whereas, many other reasons for exchange of courtesies and co-operative methods exist, therefore, be it, "Resolved, that it is the sense of Pine Creek local, American Society of Equity, that citizens of this vicinity in both states should work together for these ends:

"(1) Free trade between the states of Minnesota and Wisconsin.

"(2) The ceding of Pettibone island to Wisconsin, and of Red Wing island to Minnesota.

"(3) The establishment of an active market in La Crosse, with business men working for its establishment and farmers recognizing their duty to patronize it and keep it going.

"(4) Subscriptions by the farmers to the stock of the co-operative packing plant, and active co-operation by them in all other efforts looking to the building up of this city and section, and to mutual prosperity.

"Accepting responsibility for their part in this proposal, Pine Creek local, American Society of Equity, by its undersigned officers, duly authorized by unanimous vote in a meeting held March 31, 1914, hereby petitions your honorable body to take the first step looking to the working out of these plans by passing the ordinance making the wagon bridge free from tolls.

U. S. S. MICHIGAN

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 16.— The battleship Michigan which sailed from the navy yard here yesterday for Mexico, has lost her chance of joining Rear Admiral Badger's squadron before the battleships reach the mobilization point off Tampico as she did not pass the Delaware breakwater until 9:40 o'clock this morning owing to a heavy fog and driving rain which enveloped the river. The battleships Illinois and Missouri are coaled and ready to sail for the navy yard at an instant's notice.

The Louisiana was joined in the upper bay by the battleship Ohio which steamed down from the New York navy yard. The two great warships then steamed through the lower bay and out to sea.

The supply ship Celtrio also will sail for Tampico this evening.

of the Sea

NEW YORK, April 16.—The three masted schooner Buckley, was a wreck today off the New Jersey coast near Long Branch, the captain, his wife and six members of the crew dead, and a tugboat with two of its crew were lost following a seventy-mile gale which flailed the Atlantic coast for thirty-six hours.

A. Martin was the only man saved from the Buckley. He may recover.
The Buckley, heavily laden with lumber from Jacksonville, Fla., struck a sand bar late yesterday. Life saving crews were unable to reach her because of the fierce storm.

Off Raritan bay the tugboat Aries of New London, Conn., sank. Two of her crew were drowned and five rescued.

A Standard Oil barge and a few smaller craft were reported missing today. Fear was expressed by weather forecasters for ships along the coast because of a gale expected today.

WEATHER

Yesterday's temperatures:
High, 73.
Low, 38.
Precipitation, 0.

Forecast for La Crosse and vicinity: Unsettled tonight and Friday with showers; warmer tonight, cooler Friday.

For Wisconsin: Fair tonight with warmer southwest portion; Friday increasing cloudiness with probably showers in afternoon or night.

For Minnesota: Mostly cloudy tonight and Friday with probably showers; cooler south and west portions Friday; fresh shifting breezes.

Weather Conditions

The eastern storm is central off the middle Atlantic coast this morning and rain is falling throughout the middle and north Atlantic states.
Another low covers the plains states but little rain has fallen in connection with this depression. It is being closely followed by an area of high pressure, falling temperature, and rain or snow. The maximum temperature at Medicine Hat yesterday was 76 degrees and at Tampa, Fla., 72 degrees. Maximum temperatures of 80 were reported from Miles City and Bismarck to Kansas while in northwestern Texas it reached 88.
The western depression will cause unsettled weather in this section tonight and Friday and showers are probable. The temperature will be higher tonight and somewhat lower Friday afternoon or night.

DEMONSTRATION IN SUFFRAGE INTEREST TO BE HELD HERE

Parade or Entertainment

CALL MEETING TO MAKE PLANS

Details of Proceedings in La Crosse to Be Settled at Gathering on Saturday

A suffrage parade in La Crosse is a probability of the near future, when the La Crosse County Equal Suffrage association observes May 2, which has been designated as National Suffrage day. The suffragists all over the country will hold demonstrations to commemorate the advance made by the suffrage movement, and to impress congress with the strength of the movement. A constitutional amendment for woman suffrage is now before congress.

The La Crosse county association has issued a call for a meeting on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the public library hall, for settling the kind of demonstration to be given in La Crosse. If it is found inadvisable to hold a suffrage parade, an entertainment of some kind will take its place.

The Local Call
The call issued today by the local association is as follows:
"In view of the great interest and the many activities in equal suffrage work in other places, it seems that the women of La Crosse should do something to celebrate the progress of the work on May 2.

"A suffrage parade may not be possible, but there is a great amount of local talent that might be used in getting up some kind of an entertainment for that evening.

"Therefore the equal suffrage club of La Crosse issues a call to all women of the county and city who are at all interested in the work of equal suffrage to meet Saturday, the eighteenth, at 3 p. m. at library hall, to talk the matter over in an informal way.

(Signed)
"MRS. F. J. BUNTING,
"President."
The State Call
The call sent out by the state association follows:
"To the County and Local Suffrage Association of Wisconsin:
"A National Suffrage day is to be celebrated in every state in the Union on the 2nd of May, 1914.

"The purpose of the demonstration on that day is to impress congress with the strength of the suffrage movement throughout the United States.

SAN PEDRO DELA COLONIAS, Coahuila, Mexico, April 16.—Another fierce battle between Villa's troops and the remnant of the combined federal columns of Generals Velasco, De Moure and Maas is in progress at Venavides station, east of here. Villa is using all the available rebel troops here, and has ordered 3,000 fresh soldiers from Torreon. It is reported that the weary, battle torn federal army is completely surrounded.

General Toribio Ortega, one of Villa's chief lieutenants, reported today that, among the prisoners taken by his division at San Pedro, were five American newspaper correspondents and magazine writers who had been traveling with the federals.
The Americans will be brought here.

More than 7,000 wounded have been brought in from distant parts of the battlefield since San Pedro was captured. When the constitutionalists took the place, they captured 20 locomotives and 300 empty freight cars. They also took 25 cars of coal, four carloads of ice, 30 carloads of ammunition, 20 carloads of water, 50 carloads of cotton and 75 carloads of merchandise.

In addition to eleven cannon abandoned by the federals in San Pedro itself, 17 rapid fire guns and a dozen other pieces of artillery, including mountain guns, have been picked up along the trail of the fleeing army.

Today's Developments in Mexican Situation

Huerta agrees to salute American flag if his salute is returned.

International law authorities divide on question of whether return of salute would not constitute recognition of Huerta government.

State department officials expressed optimism on outlook for adjustment of situation. Refused all definite information.

Senator Shively, chairman of foreign relations committee says return of salute would not constitute recognition; holds there must be some other hitch preventing immediate settlement.

Senator Lodge declared a return of Huerta's salute would "make the United States ridiculous."

ABOARD FLAGSHIP ARKANSAS AT SEA, April 16.—(By Wireless to Cape Hatteras, N. C.)—Steaming southward into clearing skies, Uncle Sam's four dreadnaughts were well on their way to Tampico today.
The wireless on the flagship Arkansas flashed out the orders of "no stops" and twelve knots speed, and today the navy's finest fighting ships were strung out in a long line, the Arkansas leading, with the New Jersey, the Vermont and the New Hampshire each 1,000 feet astern, in order.

Officers figured today that their course and the twelve knot speed would bring the fleet to Tampico at noon on Wednesday next. What is to occur when the Mexican seaport is reached no one knows—unless it be Rear Admiral Badger. The commander of the fleet admitted having full dispatches from the navy department. He would not discuss them nor the breadth of the discretionary authority granted him. The officers and men of the four dreadnaughts were, however, prepared for any contingency. They had worked willingly most of the night stowing supplies hastily flung aboard at Hampton Roads, in their proper places and making things "ship shape."

Routine drills aboardship today were performed with a vigor that reflected the fondest hope of the officers and crew for active service.

Louisiana Leaves
NEW YORK, April 16.—Having received no message this afternoon asking him to delay the departure of the Louisiana, Captain Gibbons at 2:35 o'clock gave orders for her to proceed to Mexico. The big battleship was steaming down the Hudson at 2:45 o'clock.

Torpedo Boats Start SAN PEDRO, Cal., April 16.—The south Pacific torpedo boat flotilla of the American Pacific fleet cleared San Pedro harbor early today for San Diego. The vessels sailed under orders from Washington.

Cruisers Ready
BREMERTON, Wash., April 16.— The armored cruisers Pittsburgh and Albany have completed their reparations to sail for San Diego, the rendezvous of the Pacific fleet, in compliance with the orders of Secretary of the Navy Daniels. The two vessels probably will sail tomorrow.
The Pittsburgh carries 300 marines.
The battleships South Dakota, West Virginia and Washington are also to sail within forty-eight hours, if necessity arises.

Dean of Diplomatic Corps in Washington Approves Course Taken by Wilson

WASHINGTON, April 16.— Mexico, as represented by Provisional President Huerta, has agreed to salute the American flag. And Charge O'Shaughnessy has been notified by President Wilson to tell Huerta that the United States will in accordance with naval precedence, return this salute. This will close the latest Mexican crisis unless unexpected disapproval of the plan comes from either the Mexican or United States congresses.

No change has been made in the plan to be carried if the unexpected hitch does come. The battleships are steaming south along both coasts. They will continue, at least until the salute has actually been fired. They may also be held near Mexico in readiness for another crisis.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan insist, and they are upheld by a majority of the members of the senate committee on foreign relations that such a salute will be in no way a recognition of Huerta as provisional president of Mexico.

In the final messages sent to O'Shaughnessy late this afternoon Secretary Bryan told the American charge that there could be no question of returning the salute if it is fired at Tampico. Every precedent in the navy's history, the message says, provides for such a reply.
"Huerta's stipulation that our ships must return the salute if a salute is given the American flag by the Mexicans, is merely a request that the usual forms be complied with," said Senator Shively.

"That does not, however, constitute a recognition of Huerta as the head of a de jure government in Mexico. It is a recognition of the de facto government, just as our original demand was a recognition of the de facto government. But there is no de jure government in Mexico that we recognize."

Other authorities on international law disagreed with Senator Shively.

The alternative presented by Huerta still leaves the administration's course undecided.
Senator Lodge, ranking republican member of the foreign relations committee, held that return of a salute by Huerta would be a "back down" on the part of the United States.

"A return of Huerta's salute to our flag would make us ridiculous and it is inconceivable," declared Lodge. "A salute to our flag by the Mexicans as an apology for the insult inflicted the other day when our sailors were arrested would be symbolical. But the moment we return that salute it becomes merely an exchange of courtesies, and is absolutely valueless as an apology for any insult offered."

"Not only does the return of the salute wipe out the apologetic nature of this function, but it involves recognition by the United States government of Huerta."

"It is inconceivable that the United States government would accept any such absurd terms as those offered by Huerta and I am confident they will not be accepted."

That the crisis is about to be ended with a "back down" by President Huerta was the opinion expressed in high official circles this afternoon. That President Huerta's salute to the American flag as demanded by President Wilson will be fired long before Admiral Badger's bat-

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

EARLY IN THE MORNING

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Joshua Perkins became suddenly possessed of a great desire for a sight of his two grandchildren, to say nothing of his longing for a glimpse of city life. For two long years he had scarcely strayed from the tiny cottage on Long Island, with its neatly kept flower gardens, its chickens and its cats.

It had been the latter animals—his two great house cats—that had precipitated his acquaintance with his neighbors.

Paragot, the beloved vagabond of the cat world, had wandered through the fence and into the fair neighbor's domain. Once there, he seemed loathe to leave. Joshua Perkins did not blame the cat for lingering under the caressing hands of Kathleen O'Conner.

"If I were fifty years younger it would not be that nomad cat that would be getting fondled," he reflected, and watched the sunlight play on Kathleen's hair while she worked among the riot of flowers in her small garden.

"I wonder," he said, leaning over the fence and smiling his winning smile directly into the girl's laughing eyes, "whether you would feed my chickens and cats—while I take a short run to Broadway?"

Kathleen smiled banteringly. "Is it the tango teas or the children that you are wanting to see? But, surely, I will be glad to look after the livestock and even water the flowers for you as long as you want to stay."

So it happened that Kathleen was left in charge, not only of her own small property, but also that of her neighbor. It was quite as easy to feed two broods of chickens as it was one, and certainly the two cats had always given her much of their purring society.

"The flowers," she reflected with a tender smile at Joshua Perkins's old fashioned hollyhocks and sunflowers, "will take more time, but I love every one of them." She drew a long breath of delight. She would not have exchanged her tiny domain among the green fields for a castle in the city. "I hope Mr. Perkins enjoys the city."

Kathleen attended her gardening whether sun or rain offered itself in the way of weather. On sunny days a large sunbonnet of pink or blue shaded her deep blue eyes, and when mud and rain entered into the day's work she wore great top boots, a masculine coat and slouch hat.

One might, if passing Grove Cottage on a pouring wet day and spying some one in the garden take that some one to be a boy, so straight and boyish was the slim figure.

Kathleen rather enjoyed the extra charge she had assumed in the care of her neighbor's chickens. Anything in the manner of change was a relief. It had always been more or less lonely when her brother was in the city all day and now that Joshua Perkins, too, was gone, Kathleen felt decidedly isolated.

When a few days had passed by she had worn quite a path over to Joshua's chicken run, so often did she go over to inspect and feed the feathered pets.

"I doubt if Joshua ever kills a single chicken," she mused as she returned through the fence, followed by the two cats.

Kathleen shivered and looked at the sky. There were dampness and fog in the air. She took both cats inside with her to sleep beside the open fire.

Early the next morning Kathleen was awakened by the mournful sound of the fog horn. It was still dark outside, and a heavy blanket of fog hid even her neighbor's house from her. She sprang out of bed and shut her windows.

The thought of the poor, cold chickens outside prompted her to slip quietly downstairs and put on a great pan of mush to heat. After that she got into her top boots and long coat and went quietly out to the hen runs.

It might have been midnight, so dark was the morning, and Kathleen had to go cautiously out with her bowl of hot meal. She realized how grateful would be those shivering chickens and her heart was light.

From the upper window of Joshua Perkins' cottage a young man peered out through the fog. He was city bred and the mournful horn had awakened him. Also the weird silence of the country had disturbed his dreams and now he imagined he could discern a figure slipping stealthily away from the chicken run at the foot of the garden.

"It will do no harm to pop off this gun," he muttered, and fired Joshua's shotgun in the direction of the marauder.

The cocks set up a deafening noise, the stealthy figure crumpled up and seemed to drop to the ground, and somewhere in the neighborhood a great dog barked.

"All the joys of the country," muttered the young man, getting swiftly into his clothes. "Now I've got to go down through this ghastly fog and see whether I've peppered that chicken thief to the extent of getting myself flung into jail. Next time I come to the country for a little quiet—I won't."

Muttering and grumbling, he made his way through the mysteries of the fog hung morning.

Unfamiliar with the paths, it took him some time to find the low chicken houses, and there, just by the small door, he found the huddled figure of the intruder.

Stepping down he peered into the face, then lifted Kathleen in his arms. Fortunately her lantern had gone out when she fell, and was laying harmlessly at her side. The great coat was so great that it was not until a soft, silky braid swept across his hand that Elwood Curtiss realized that he had fired upon a woman. "Great Scott! And she's fainting! I am alone in this damp world with an unconscious woman—girl," he supplemented upon gazing down into the almost childlike face of Kathleen. He was not aware that he had spoken aloud.

"How dare you fire that horrid gun at me!" demanded the girl so suddenly as to startle Curtiss into releasing his hold on her.

"I took you for a chicken thief," he apologized swiftly, the while he began to appreciate the fog and the country and his Uncle Joshua. "I am so sorry to have startled you; I hope no damage has been done."

"None whatever," said Kathleen. "If there is one thing I do like better than another it is to be taken for a chicken thief and scared out of my wits at 5 o'clock on a foggy morning."

Curtiss laughed aloud. A second later he jumped. Something soft and sleek was rubbing against his legs. Paragot, the beloved vagabond of the cat world, had wandered out in pursuit of Kathleen, and his mate had followed. A huge St. Bernard dog was looming up through the fog, and just behind him came Kathleen's brother.

"I say, Sis: what in the world are you up to at this unearthly hour? And who's shooting off that gun around here? Well—" He had found the curious group of animals, his sister and a strange man. "Have you all lost your minds or is this an early morning fog party?"

"This man shot at me when I was feeding Joshua's chickens some hot meal," explained Kathleen with a laugh struggling with her anger.

"It is this way," said Curtiss. "I came down here at my uncle's suggestion for a few weeks of the country. I am awakened in what I suppose to be the middle of the night by sounds that make one think of burglars, and naturally, upon seeing a stealthy figure stealing away from the chicken house, I fired the blooming gun. I cannot tell you how extremely sorry I am." He picked up Paragot and began stroking the black fur.

Kathleen peered at him through the fog and found him much to her liking. Any man who loved cats was welcome to her friendship. She had always somehow found such men likeable.

"If you are intending to get your own breakfast," she said, "I think you had better come over and have it with my brother and me," she smiled. "Your uncle left me in charge of the chickens and cats. I feel sure he would appreciate my watching his nephew."

"I have always told Sis she would be taken for a man—in those togs," laughed Kathleen's brother as he led the way back to Grove cottage.

Joshua Perkins laughed joyously when he received a letter from his nephew. "Who says I am not a match maker? I wanted that blue eyed Kathleen in the family, and it didn't take the boy long, either."

Potential incentive. Nell—Do you think you could love him if he were rich? Belle—I would try hard—

Simple Home Treatment for Objectionable Hairs

(Toilet Talks)
Here is a toilet help you should remember, because it may at some time be the means of saving you from embarrassment: To quickly and painlessly remove hair or fuzz from chin, lip or cheek, apply a thick paste made by mixing together powdered delatone and water. Let this remain on the hairy surface about 2 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and lo! the hairs have vanished. This treatment is entirely harmless, but caution should be used to see that you get delatone.

CULVER STORE IS SOLD AT DAKOTA

H. F. Nissalke Is the Purchaser and Will Open Soon with New Stock

DAKOTA, Minn., April 16.—H. F. Nissalke has purchased the business of George Culver and is remodeling the entire interior and will open in the near future with a new stock of merchandise. Henry is one of the young men of this village and has been connected with the Nick Trinks Implement company, until recently. He is a bright, active young man and well liked in the community.

Mr. Eugene Williams and family have moved to town and now occupy a house in the south end. We heartily welcome Mr. Williams and family and hope they will be well pleased with our village.

Mr. Will Beach accompanied by his wife and daughter left for La Crosse Saturday, where Mrs. Beach underwent an operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Beach, we are pleased to learn, is improving nicely, and her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. J. W. Donehower returned from La Crosse on Saturday last, her daughter Miss Elva, who recently underwent an operation, returned with her. Miss Elva is feeling fine once more although she has not fully recovered her strength as yet.

Glen and Earl Harrington were business callers last week.

Messrs. W. H. Harrington and J. W. Donehower were callers at Winona the latter part of last week.

Floyd and Miss Jesse Dykeman of Pickwick, were in town Tuesday attending the Berry funeral and visiting old acquaintances.

A number of our people are attending the M. E. Sunday school convention at Winona this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffin and Mrs. F. J. Wollard of Pickwick were business callers on Wednesday.

J. W. Donehower has installed a new counter in his grocery department and is sure some "classy" it being strictly modern and sanitary.

Women Everywhere

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Women from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from all sections of this great country, no city so large, no village so small but that some woman has written words of thanks for health restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No woman who is suffering from the ills peculiar to her sex should rest until she has given this famous remedy a trial. Is it not reasonable to believe that what it did for these women it will do for any sick woman?

Wonderful Case of Mrs. Stephenson, on the Pacific Coast.

INDEPENDENCE, OREGON.—"I was sick with what four doctors called Nervous Prostration, was treated by them for several years, would be better for a while then back in the old way again. I had palpitation of the heart very bad, fainting spells, and was so nervous that a spoon dropping to the floor would nearly kill me, could not lift the lightest weight without making me sick; in fact was about as sick and miserable as a person could be. I saw your medicines advertised and thought I would try them, and am so thankful I did for they helped me at once. I took about a dozen bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and also used the Sanative Wash. Since then I have used them whenever I felt sick. Your remedies are the only doctor I employ. You are at liberty to publish this letter."—MRS. W. STEPHENSON, Independence, Oregon.

A Grateful Atlantic Coast Woman.

HODGDON, ME.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—MRS. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Maine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health. Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ESSMAN NOW IN THE PENITENTIARY

MADISON, Wis., April 16.—William L. Essman, three months ago superintendent of public property of the state of Wisconsin, is in the state penitentiary at Waupun. Yesterday he pleaded guilty to charges of embezzling the moneys of the state and received a fifteen months sentence. With good behavior, Essman will end his term a year from this June. He will, however, be eligible for parole about January first, which, it is understood, will be granted.

VILLAGE INCORPORATES

MADISON, Wis., April 16.—The village of Niagara, Marinette county, has incorporated. The city of Fond du Lac has filed affidavits of the recent election whereby the city changed to the commission form of government. The governor will issue a patent.

Witchcraft in India.

The belief in witchcraft is widespread in India, especially among the tribes low in the scale of civilization. The ojha, or exorcist, is an important member of the community. His mummeries and incantations impress not only the lower classes, but even orthodox Rajputs and Kayasths. He is paid to denounce witches, and, with the cunning of his class, he usually chooses harmless old women whose existence is rather a burden upon the village. Some of these women, however, have as implicit belief in their powers for evil as the villagers themselves. Murder frequently follows the denunciation.

Systematic Saving

is the only kind that pays. Spasmodic thrift gets nowhere, because what is saved during your economical streaks is spent during your periods of extravagance. But saving by a plan

MAKES PROGRESS SURE and the wisest plan is to open a savings account in a strong bank like this and make it a matter of duty to deposit here just as certainly as you meet your other regular obligations, such as rent or the grocer's and butcher's bills.

McGOVERN'S IDEA IS NOT DEMOCRATIC
(F. M. Wylie)

The veto power of the governor should be curtailed or abolished, instead of extended to the items of the budget appropriation bills, as is proposed in Governor McGovern's special message and his referendum to the town meetings.

The referendum, when made a part of the constitution, will provide a veto power by the people. The veto of the governor should then at the most be merely advisory, as are his messages, and a bill should pass after veto by the same vote that it required in the first instance. The two-thirds vote to pass over the governor's veto should be abolished, if not immediately upon the adoption of the referendum, at least when the legislature is reorganized from its present impractical form into a one-house, continuous-session, scientific law making body.

In the constitutional device of our forefathers, perhaps the present style of veto was necessary. At least our forefathers thought so. But a scientifically constituted legislature and a veto in the people will provide means, at once more democratic and more effective, to the same end—the prevention of poorly drafted, illy considered, or unpopular legislation.

The occasional good use of the veto in the hands of a democratic and conscientious executive is offset by the continuous vice of the veto power in the hands of an undemocratic or unscrupulous executive. Its logrolling propensities are enormous. It is often used to make partisan measures which should be non-partisan.

Its use for revenge is common. Its power is equal in votes to one-sixth of the legislature, in Wisconsin, sixteen assemblymen and six senators.
And its real powers of coercion and revenge are much greater.

To add to the executive veto power would be a step in the wrong direction. Governmental functions are today so vast and so complicated that they must be largely placed in the hands of specialists and experts, it is true, and that is the trend of the commission movement and of the new legislature which I advocate; but the power to curb must be placed with the people, or this system is dangerous to democracy.

For that reason, the initiative, referendum, and recall should be adopted before the legislature is reorganized. And for that reason, the recall should be applied to commissioners and other important appointment officers with quasi-legislative, quasi-judicial, quasi-administrative functions. And for that reason, when the power to veto legislation is placed with the people by the adoption of the referendum, the veto power of the executive should be curtailed, and when the legislature is reorganized, perhaps abolished.

Perhaps the governor and elective state officials should be members of the new legislature, to fix responsibility of administration, but I fear the tendency would be for them to be too dominating an influence. Responsibility would be sufficiently fixed by executive messages and administrative acts. Then the attention of the people would be directed to the legislators and the laws for which the people would be responsible, and which, by the initiative, referendum, and recall, would always be within reach of the people.

BLACK HAWK SHOULD BE GIVEN RECOGNITION

Declaring that a bronze tablet raised on University Hill, Madison, in honor of Black Hawk, the famous Indian chieftain, is not a sufficient memorial to that distinguished aborigine, the Milwaukee Free Press says:

It is to be hoped that tardy justice may be done the memory of Black Hawk, one of the notable figures in Wisconsin history, by bestowing his name on the lake to be created by the Prairie du Sac dam.
The Hawk's romantic story, his devotion to the land of his people and the graves of his fathers and the war waged by him in their defense, single him out as one of the finest types of a vanished race. Mr.
Thwaites' admirable state history relates his career in full, pronouncing the Black Hawk war "one of the most discreditable punitive expeditions in the long history of American relations with the aborigines." Despite his faults of credulity and over-zeal, Black Hawk was a patriot and deserves to have his name permanently associated with the territory he fought for.

What manner of man was Black Hawk, what his motives, were poeti-cally told in a statement which the chieftain made shortly before his death. The Free Press quotes him as follows:

Rock river was a beautiful country. I liked my town, my corn fields, and the home of my people. I fought for them.

Of the foregoing sentences the late Mr. Thwaites, former state librarian, in his history of the Black Hawk war said: "No poet could have penned him a more touching epitaph."

The Free Press without question is right. The tendency to get away from our native nomenclature is bad.
We should select that which is typical, characteristic, as namesakes of our lasting objects. Thus we are writing history that will be in the mouths of the people from generation to generation.

MORGAN QUILTS DIRECTORATE

Morgan today retired as a director of the New York Central at its annual meeting here. With him also retired T. S. Bowdoin and L. C.
Ledyard. Harold S. Vanderbilt, Ogden Mills and Robert S. Lovett were elected in their places.

Said a little girl to a pussy-cat:
"It's jolly to make you play!
How soft your purr when I stroke your fur,
And your claws are all tucked away!
I love you ever so much for that,"
Said a little girl to a pussy-cat.

"But, oh, there's a terrible thing I've heard,
That brings great sorrow to me;
You killed a poor little baby bird That lived in our apple tree.
You can't be dear to me after that,"
Said a little girl to a pussy-cat.

"O little maid," said the pussy-cat,
"You are gentle and kind, they say To bird and beast, but didn't YOU feast
On chicken for lunch today?
And aren't there feathers upon your hat,
O little maid," said the pussy-cat.

"Oh, I'll be I and you'll be you, As long as this world shall be,
If you'll be as good as you can for me,
I'll try to be good for me.
So let's be friends, and agree to that,
O little maid!" said the pussy-cat.

Just Wait
Whistler and Oscar Wilde did not love each other overmuch, and as they constantly met in London drawing rooms their sparring was pretty deadly.

On one occasion Whistler made a remark so brilliant as to provoke applause even from Wilde.

"By jove, Whistler," he exclaimed, "I wish I had said that."

"Never mind," replied Whistler,
"you will."

The wealthy old lady was very ill and sent for her lawyer to make her will.

"I wish to explain to you," she said weakly, "about disposing of my property."

The lawyer was sympathetic.

"There, there, don't worry about it," he said soothingly, "just leave it to me."

"Oh, well," said the old lady resignedly, "I suppose I might as well, you'll get it anyway."

Dunning Letters
"Oh, Will," she said, moving a trifle closer to him, "I am so glad you are not rich! They say that some of those millionaires receive threatening letters saying that something awful will happen to them if they don't pay the writers sums of money."

"Oh, is that all?" replied Will.
"Why, I get plenty of such letters."

A Lower Berth Three convial passengers were going to Elyria the other day. One of them was awfully tired, and as soon as he got into his plush seat, out of the stormy weather, he went to sleep.
And as soon as he got to sleep one of his companions wiped his ticket from his pocket. Then the conductor approached and the two wide-awake ones aroused the sleeper.

"Here comes the conductor for the tickets," they said. "Wake up."

He woke up and searched his pocket.

This Skin Peeler All the Rage in Society

There is a growing tendency among women of culture and fashion to pay more attention to hygienic means of preserving their charms. The advent of mercolized wax doubtless has been largely responsible for this. This remarkable substance produces complexions so natural in appearance, so magnetically beautiful, artificial complexions are no longer desired. Instead of "doctoring" an offensive skin, the skin is peeled off. The wax peels the skin so gradually, in such fine particles, no discomfort is experienced. The fresher, young skin beneath, wholly in evidence within a week or two, is lily white, satiny soft and smooth. It's not a patched-over complexion, but a brand new one.
That's why mercolized wax has become such a rage among society folk.
The wax is put on night like cold cream and washed off mornings. All druggists have it; one ounce will do.
Another hygienic treatment now much in favor is one to remove wrinkles, made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel.
Used as a wash lotion it "acts like magic."

MEN OF PROGRESS.
Of no use are the men who study to do exactly as was done before, who can never understand that today is a new day. We want men of original perception and original action, who can open their eyes wider than to a nationality—namely, to considerations of benefit to the human race—can act in the interest of civilization; men of elastic, men of moral mind, who can live in the moment and take a step forward.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

With an unpleasant laugh he began to get into his clothes. Why not? The more he thought of it, the more he was positive that they had been behind this assault. The belt would have meant a good deal to Craig. There were a thousand Chinese in Singapore who would cut a man's throat for a Straits dollar.
Either Mallow or Craig had seen him counting the money on shipboard. It had been a pastime of his to throw the belt on the bunkblanket and play with the gold and notes, like a child with its Christmas blocks. He had spent hours gloating over the yellow metal and crackly paper which meant a competence for the rest of his years.
And Craig or Mallow had seen him.

He looked at his watch; quarter after two. If they were not in their rooms he would have good grounds for his suspicions. He stole along the gallery and down the stairs to the office, just in time to see the two enter, much the worse for drink. Mallow was boisterous, and Craig was sullen. The former began to argue with the night manager, who politely shook his head.
Mallow grew insistent, but the night manager refused to break the rules of the hotel. Warrington inferred that Mallow was demanding liquor, and his inference was correct. He moved a little closer, still hidden behind the potted palms.

"All right," cried Mallow. "We'll go back to town for it!"

"I've had enough," declared Craig sullenly.

"Yah! A little more, eh? Well, I can't pour it down your throat."

"Let's cut out booze and play a little hand or two."

"Fine!" Mallow slapped his thigh as he laughed. "Nice bird I'd be for you to pluck. Think of something else. You can hit me on the head when I'm not looking and take my money that way. What do you think I am, anyhow? The billiard-hall is open."

Craig shook his head. When Mal-low was argumentative it was no time to play billiards.

"Bah!" snarled Mallow. "Since you won't drink like a man nor play billiards, I'm for bed. And just as the fun was beginning!"

Craig nudged him warningly.
Mallow stalked away, and Craig, realizing that the night was done, followed.

Warrington had seen and heard enough. He was tolerably sure. It might have been out of pure deviltry, so far as Mallow was concerned; but Craig had joined in hope of definite profits. A fine pair of rogues!
Neither of them should be able to draw against the letter. He would block that game the first thing in the morning. He would simply notifi-fy the local banks and cable to Rankoon.

He eyed indecisively the stairs, and then glanced toward the brilliant night outside. It would not be possible to sleep in that room again. So he tiptoed out to the cafeveranda and dropped into a comfortable chair. He would hunt them up some time during the day. He would ask Mallow for fifty pounds, and he sincerely hoped that Mallow would refuse him. For he was grimly resolved that Mallow should pay for those half-truths, more damning than bald lies. It was due to Mallow that he was never more to see or speak to Elsa. He emptied the ash from his cutty which he stowed away.

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not really need them. If you are one of these unfortunate, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear these "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona; fill a two ounce bottle with warm water and drop in one Optona tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily, and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have stigmatism, eye-strain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctiv-itis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may as strengthen your eyes that glasses w/ll not be necessary. Thousands who are blind, or nearly so, or who wear glasses would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.

NORTH SIDE

PRESBYTERY ENDS
SPRING SESSION

Rev. Finch A. Clarke Will Act as Clerical Commissioner to General Assembly

Rev. Finch A. Clarke of the North Presbyterian church was elected clerical commissioner to the Presbyterian General assembly which opens May 21 in Chicago at the closing session of the spring meeting of the La Crosse Presbytery at the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon. Rev. W. H. Parri-Jones, North Bend, was chosen alternate.

The laymen of the La Crosse Presbytery will be represented by David Wood, Bangor. His alternate is James Wilson, Lewis Valley.

The Presbytery sessions and the annual meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary society came to an end last night with an address by Miss Lydia A. Hays of New York, representing the Women's Board of Home Missions. Miss Hays spoke on "The Call of the Mountains." The talk was heard by an audience composed of the Presbytery delegates, the delegates to the women's meeting and members of the local Presbyterian churches.

At the closing session of the Presbytery in the afternoon, nothing but routine business was transacted outside of the election of representatives to the general assembly.

The Women's Missionary society elected the following officers at their afternoon session: President, Mrs.
 Benjamin Thomas, Galesville; vice-president, Mrs. F. A. Suiter, La Crosse; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. G. Moore, La Crosse; Young People's secretary, Miss Ella Kneel-and, Galesville; mission study secretary, Mrs. H. D. Griswold, West Salem; secretary of literature, Mrs.
 W. H. Parri-Jones, North Bend; recording secretary, Mrs. William Mc-Eldowney, West Salem; treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Sanders, La Crosse.

BURY INFANT TODAY

The funeral of Ruth, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hilbert, 718 Avon street, was held this afternoon at two o'clock at St. John's church. Rev. John Kloecker officiating. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

TROUT BITE WELL FOR EARLY SEASON

North Siders Return with Fish and Report the Streams Lined with Fishermen

"Trout are biting well for this time of year," said Ed Wheeler this morning, "but they could bite better. It is a little early yet for them.
 Wait until we get out with flies and then we will show the rest of the fellows how to catch trout."

Mr. Wheeler, together with Lars Instenes, Joseph Gohres and his son, Charles, made the trip to Sparta Tuesday evening in an auto belonging to Charlie Wheeler, arriving there about 9 o'clock and stopping at a farmhouse for the night.

Yesterday morning the disciples of Walton rose to greet the sun, and hiked across the fields to Big creek, which, by the way, is one of the "hot" trout streams of the country. Luck, until the early hours of the forenoon, was not very good, and then when the speckled beauties began to nibble, along came every farmer in the vicinity, with their families.

By 9 o'clock the stream was lined with fishermen and fishermen so thickly, said Mr. Wheeler, that he couldn't stream the hook without becoming tangled up with someone's line. And then they "beat it," Mr.
 Wheeler and son for home and Lars and Joseph for a more sequestered spot.

"I didn't want to go home without a mess, and I didn't," said Mr.
 Instenes. "Joe and I got fifteen between us." Instenes stayed by the sport until the middle of the afternoon and started to walk to Sparta, when along came a West Salem friend, who graciously proffered free transportation to the station. "And we made it in the nick of time," said Mr. Instenes. "Just as we were stepping aboard the train a tire blew up."

BURLINGTON CHIEFS INSPECT SYSTEM

Pass Through the City on Trip of Investigation Looking Toward Economy

Vice President Bryan, General Manager Greer, General Superintendent Johnson and Superintendents Worden and Phiehoff of the Burlingington system passed through the city yesterday on a special train of four coaches. The train arrived here about noon from Savanna and left at 12:20 for St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The purpose of the trip by the officials is for inspection of the road and for finding of possible ways for cutting down the expenses of operation without interfering with the efficiency of the system. General Manager Greer expressed his satisfaction in what has already been done on the line between here and Savanna in the way of double tracks and the elimination of curves where-ever possible. It was expected that the special would arrive in St. Paul late in the afternoon.

CAMPBELL COUPLE
MARRIED TODAY

Fred Schroeder and Miss Katherine Pralle, both of the town of Campbell, were married this afternoon at two o'clock at the German Lutheran church in Onalaska. Rev. Julius Bernholz of La Crosse performed the ceremony. William Schroeder, a brother of the groom and Miss Laura Pralle, a sister of the bride, attended the couple. Following the ceremony, the guests repaired to the Campbell town hall, where a sumptuous dinner was served at five o'- clock.

The Home Beauty Parlor.
By Betty Dean

Dolly: I use a plain quinzoin tonic to give my scalp the health that insures hair beauty. This tonic is prepared at home by pouring 1 ounce quinzoin into 1/2 pint alcohol, then adding 1/2 pint water. Rub a little well into your scalp twice a week for a time and all dandruff, hair falling and excess oil will disappear. I find this quinzoin tonic cannot be equaled for restoring the silky softness and rich, even color to brittle, faded hair, and its regular use will encourage a long, luxuriant growth.

Mrs. O.R.: Your surplus weight can be safely reduced with no ill after-effects by this simple treatment, which costs little and can be made at home: Into 1 1/2 pints hot water put 4 ounces parnotis. Strain when cool and take a tablespoonful before meals. This dissolves fat rapidly without dieting or unusual exercising. The parnotis treatment also leaves the flesh firm and the skin free from wrinkles.

Glady: Instead of pore-clogging powder I use a plain spumax lotion, because one application is sufficient for an entire day or evening. This lotion adheres so closely to the skin that it seems part of it, so cannot be detected, and it gives it a very velvety appearance. To prepare, just put 4 ounces spumax into 1/2 pint hot water or witch hazel and add 2 tea-spoonfuls glycerine. The use of this lotion banishes pimples, blackheads, blotches and sallowness. It is particularly good for tan, freckles and oiliness of the skin.

Miss B.: For a small sum you can make a full quart of the very best blood-purifier and system-builder. Dissolve 1 ounce karden in 1/2 pint alcohol (not whisky), then add 1/2 cupful sugar and hot water to make a full quart. Take a tablespoonful before meals. This rids the skin of pimples, blotches and "muddiness" and restores to the complexion the glow of youthful health. This karden tonic is particularly recommended for kidney and bladder troubles, and for rheumatic or gouty conditions, because it gently eliminates these poisons from the system and restores the sufferer to health.

Mrs. A.: I have made my face look years younger by using this wrinkle-removing cream-jelly, which I make at home by putting 2 tablespoonfuls glycerine into one-half pint cold water and stirring in 1 ounce almozoin, after which I let stand several hours before using. I apply the cream-jelly thickly on retiring and in the morning wash it off, dry the skin and use more cream as a massage. This treatment rapidly eliminates wrinkles and lines and restores the clear, soft, velvety smoothness to the skin and dispels the oily, "muddy," shiny look.

Bright Eyes: Replying to your second letter, just dissolve 1 ounce crystos in a pint clear water and you will have a harmless and very ben-efitial eye-tonic. Two or three drops in each eye occasionally relieves the smart and soothes the aching, tired muscles. The crystos eye tonic is excellent for granulated lids and its use frequently overcomes the need for glasses.

Nancy: For a long time I have claimed that the best way to cleanse the hair is to just dissolve a teaspoonful of canthrox, which you can get in any drug store, in a cup of hot water. This makes ready a shampoo that cleanses and invigorates the scalp and restores health and beauty to dull, straggly hair. You will find canthrox shampoos are especially fine for faded or brittle hair, and occasionally shampooing in this manner makes the hair soft, fluffy and induces a bountiful growth.

WAUSAU RETAINS ITS FRANCHISE

WAUSAU, Wis., April 16.—Arrangements were completed today whereby Wausau is to retain its franchise in the W.-I. league. The injunction suit is to be dismissed, as Freeport surrenders all its claims.

George Buser has been chosen manager of the Wausau club. The players have been notified by wire to report here this week. The first exhibition game is to be played Sunday.

A mass meeting of citizens is called for tonight to complete details of the arrangement. The settlement was effected through the influence of the directors of the league and the determined fight of Wausau to retain the franchise. Chairman Weeks is expected today to arrange the new schedule.

SPOTLIGHTS

M'INTYRE AND HEATH

John Cort's production of George V. Hobart and Jean Schwartz's novel musical comedy, "The Ham Tree," with McIntyre and Heath, most famous of negro impersonators, heading the large company, will be the attraction at the La Crosse theater tomorrow night. "The Ham Tree" is in three acts and four scenes, showing the Travelers' Rest, a country hotel at Merion, S. C., a water tank on the P. D. Q. R. R., near Dover, Del., a wood near the railroad track, and a drawing room in Mrs. Nicklebacker's Fifth avenue palace. These settings form the background for the humorous play. Mr. McIntyre plays the character of a lively stable attendant named Alexander Hambletonian, the "natural comejean," who is lured from his job to throw himself into the arms of fame as a foot-light favorite. Mr. Heath's character is that of a Georgia minstrel, Henry Jones, who lures Alexander into the limelight.

"DAMAGED GOODS"

Following the production of "Damaged Goods" in St. Louis, the society of Social Hygiene in that city, under whose auspices the play was given, issued a special bulletin upon the effect of the lesson of the drama. Summing up its report the executive committee says:

"Taken all in all, in spite of minor criticisms, which may justly be made, Mr. Bennett and his company have rendered us a great service. About sixteen thousand people witnessed the performances. Some who came doubting or with disapproval, went away convinced. The city was stirred to discussion of the subject, and the public is being accustomed to face and grapple with an evil which it has previously studiously ignored. For once at least, the stage has not thrown the glamour of attractiveness about vice but set forth its hideous nature and inevitable consequences."

Richard Bennett and co-workers will present "Damaged Goods" in this city Monday night, April 27.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO COUNTY COURT.

State of Wisconsin, County Court La Crosse County, ss.—In Probate.

Out of Sorts

THAT IS, something is wrong with baby, but we can't tell just what it is. All mothers recognize the term by the lassitude, weakness, loss of appetite, inclination to sleep, heavy breathing, and lack of interest shown by baby. These are the symptoms of sickness. It may be fever, congestion, worms, croup, diphtheria, or scarlatina. Do not lose a minute. Give the child Castoria. It will start the digestive organs into operation, open the pores of the skin, carry off the foetid matter, and drive away the threatened sickness.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

INTERMYER STARTS ROW

CHICAGO, April 16.—Delegates to the national convention conference marketing and farm credits today engaged in a warm discussion of Samuel Untermyer's banquet speech at the conference last night in which the New York lawyer pleaded for increased rates for the railroads and incidentally attacked the attitude of farmers' co-operative associations. Untermyer was subjected to severe heckling when he declared that the railroads "are facing a far graver crisis than we realize." Henry Wallace, chairman of Colonel Roosevelt's country life commission, challenged Untermyer's statement, and charged that there is no truth in the "poverty howl of the roads."

Oh, well of course, it's none of our affairs, but there never was a corset that looked like a corset advertisement.

TEAMS PLAY ELIMINATION GAMES

Evans and Solie Defeat Benzet and Strum for Lead; Class Winners
to Get Sweaters

The annual handball tournament of the Y. M. C. A. was brought to a close last night with an elimination contest in which Evans and Solie captured first place, Benzet and Strum second place, and Christie and Larson third place. The other teams placed as follows: Gran and Cilley, Schulze and Muenster, Anderson and Bonnevillie, Kaulfus and Verket.

Evans and Solie won last night's games resulted as follows: Anderson and Bonnevillie defeated Kaulfus and Verket; Schulze and Muenster defeated Anderson and Bonnevillie; Schulze and Muenster defeated Gran and Cilley; Christie and Larson defeated Schulze and Muenster; Benzet and Strum defeated Christie and Larson and Evans and Solie defeated Benzet and Strum after the latter had taken the first game of the set.

Following the elimination contest an informal banquet was served in the "Y" cafeteria by A. G. Simon, general secretary of the LaCrosse Y. M. C. A., and toastmaster. A short talk in which he declared the season just brought to a close has been the most successful in the history of the local institution.

Play Faster Game
Handicaps were better this year and a higher and faster grade of handball was delivered all around. He later announced the class winners of the tournament as follows:

Class A. Arthur Evans and Theodore Solie; class B. George L. Larson and W. P. Christie; class C. A. Kaulfus and Adolph Verket; class D. A. J. Becksted and George Lassig.

Will Award Sweaters
Gray Jersey sweaters will be awarded to the class winners. The sweaters which have been ordered and will probably arrive from the east within a week will bear a large letter "Y," the year, the class and a likeness of a handball worked in, on the front.

L. P. Benzet, Paul Schulze and Rev. W. P. Christie also spoke on the success of the 1914 season. The following committee was appointed to take charge of next year's tournament which will commence December 1: L. P. Benzet, chairman; Arthur Evans, Percy Cilley, A. Anderson and F. H. Robinson.

COUPLES ARRESTED IN RAID BY "COPS"

Swoop Down on Rooming House Early This Morning, Arrest Woman, Two Girls and Three Men

Two couples, the landlady and another man were arrested by the police in an early morning raid on a rooming house over the Sieger Fish market, Fifth and Jay streets.

The girls, Margaret Westman and Maude Schumacher, were this morning fined $12.50 and costs in municipal court after pleading guilty to charges of improper conduct.

Their escorts, John Vanderblach and William Kennedy, are being held at the police station.

Josephine Stupel, alleged to be running the disorderly house, is still in custody. The police are undecided what charge to prefer against her.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That La-Crosse Readers Cannot Deny

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. Luth, 218 Vine St., La Crosse, Wis., says: "My back hurt me all the time. I had terrible, bearing-down pains over my kidneys and through my loins, day and night. I heard me complaining and told me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I immediately got a box and it wasn't long before I was free from backache and the other kidney troubles. The fact that I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills for several years is enough to prove that my opinion of them is very high. Whenever I have the least sign of kidney complaint, Doan's Kidney Pills drive it away."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

RESINOL WILL HEAL YOUR SKIN

Stops Itching Instantly, and Clears Away Unpleasant Eruptions.

No matter how long you have been tortured and disfigured by itching, burning, raw or scaly skin humors, just put a little of that soothing, antiseptic Resinol Ointment on the sores and the suffering stops right there! Healing begins that very minute, and your skin gets well so quickly you feel ashamed of the money you threw away on useless, tedious treatments.

Resinol is also an excellent household remedy for pimples, dandruff, sores, burns, bruises, boils, and for a score of other uses where a soothing, healing application is needed. It contains nothing of a harsh or injurious nature and can be used with confidence on the tenderest or most irritated surface. Practically every druggist sells Resinol Ointment (50c. and $1.00), and Resinol Soap (25c.). For trial free, write to Dept. KK, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Ask for Resinol by name and thus avoid "substitutes" sometimes offered by unscrupulous dealers.

DICTATOR'S ACT WILL END CRISIS IN MEXICAN AFFAIR

Ships can reach Mexican waters, was believed.

Charge O'Shaughnessy wired the state department that Huerta shows signs of yielding and the general air of optimism which permeated both the state and executive departments after O'Shaughnessy's message was received convinced observers that the skies were clearing.

Note Kept Secret
Neither Secretary Bryan nor the president would permit the contents of O'Shaughnessy's note to be made public for the present, as it was admitted that it raised a situation requiring further correspondence.

Whether the naval preparations will now be carried out along the original plans cannot be learned.

It is accepted, however, that some at least of the warships now rushing south will be recalled if Huerta makes the amends demanded of him. Others probably will be diverted to Guantanamo where they can remain at the naval base within working distance of Mexico should another crisis arise.

Plans Complete Blockade
The most complete blockade ever enforced by the United States is contemplated by President Wilson for Mexico. Not a single mile of its Atlantic and Pacific coasts will be free from supervision unless Huerta makes ample reparation for recent outrages against this government.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, who is at San Francisco, was today ordered by Secretary Daniels to take charge of the movement of the Pacific fleet to the west coast of Mexico. He will confer with Admiral Doyle at the Mare Island navy yard and have personal charge.

A rendezvous of the Pacific fleet at San Diego, preparatory to a mass movement to Mexico was ordered today. Admiral Howard will have charge of the operations at this point.

Praise O'Shaughnessy
Secretary Tumulty today authorized an absolute denial of a current report that the president was much dissatisfied because of the friendly relations existing between President Huerta and Charge O'Shaughnessy.

"This report is an absolute fabrication and there is no basis whatever for it," he said.

Suggestions put forth by the Mexican embassy in this city that Huerta would be willing to submit the various complications, culminating in the episode at Tampico to The Hague for arbitration have not reached the president. It was stated at the white house that any such suggestion could not be entertained for a moment.

"This is a question affecting the national honor and is not a subject for arbitration," was the comment made.

Powers Approve Course
After a conference on the Mexican situation today with Ambassador Von Bernstorff of Germany, Secretary Bryan went to the white house to talk with President Wilson.

Ambassador Von Bernstorff said that the foreign powers would continue their "hands off" policy and leave the matter entirely to the United States.

Von Bernstorff ranks next to the dean of the diplomatic corps here and his visit was therefore regarded as significant.

Sustain President
In a secret session today the house foreign affairs committee voted to "sustain" the president in the Tampico situation, but refused to "approve" his course. The committee adopted a resolution unanimously using the word "sustain" after Representative Ainey and others had delivered an ultimatum that they would not vote for such a resolution containing the word "approve."

The committee was informed that President Wilson in his conference yesterday indicated that he would remove Charge O'Shaughnessy if he could, without substituting another representative at Mexico City, thereby virtually recognizing the Huerta regime. From three reliable sources in the committee it was learned, despite white house denials, that the president is not pleased with O'Shaughnessy's friendly relation to Huerta, and this information was based on the president's conference yesterday.

ASK WILSON'S AID FOR DYNAMITERS

Attorney Asks President to Keep Them Out of Prison Pending Pardon Decision

WASHINGTON, April 16.—President Wilson was visited today in behalf of the twenty-seven officers and members of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Workers convicted by the dynamiting conspiracy at Indianapolis more than a year ago.

The president was asked to stay the mandate of the United States court confining these men to Leavenworth prison when the attorney general could examine the records and examine whether the iron workers were not entitled to a full and complete pardon.

The appeal for the pardon was presented by E. N. Zoline of Chicago, chief attorney for the convicted men.

In asking the pardons, Attorney Zoline said that the men had not been convicted after a fair trial.

The president promised the department of justice would make a careful investigation and that he would consider the application on its merits.

POULTRYMEN MEET AT "AGGIE" SCHOOL

The poultrymen of the city of Onalaska and members of the Western Wisconsin Poultry association will meet next Monday evening at the county agricultural school at Onalaska for the purpose of organizing an auxiliary to the Western Wisconsin Poultry association. This plan was suggested at the last meeting of the association and through the efforts of Professor Campion of the school arrangements have been made for a meeting. All poultrymen in the city are invited to attend the meeting. Talks upon poultry topics will be given and an interesting session is promised.

SCOTT-ROSE GETS "JOHN D." ORDER

Golf Friend Secures Linen Contract for Special Car of Oil King on the B.
A. & P. Ry.

It's a far cry from an aristocratic country club in Chicago to a Montana railroad, but just because M. P. Rae, of Chicago, is an old "pal" of one of the "Oil King's" lieutenant generals, the Scott-Rose company of this city is shipping a $3,500 linen order to equip John D. Rockefeller's private car on the Butte, Anaconda & Pacific railroad.

Mr. Rae is also an old "pal" of N. M. Scott, and knowing that Mr. Scott is a personal friend of Sir William Robertson, of Hay & Robertson, renowned linen manufacturers in Dunfermline, the home of Scotch linens, he told the Rockefeller father to place the order for the new private car's linen with the La Crosse man. It was done, and the splendid "Anaconda" will soon shine with the whiteness of white goods bearing a wreath and monogram of Mr. Scott's own design, all made in the linen city where Andy journeys to visit Sir William and ask how he can bestow more millions to make physical Dunfermline as pretty as its name.

Incidentally, it was interesting to scan a letter superscribed, "My dear Scott," and signed, "William Robertson," in the round business hand of this liberal leader of the British peerage. That in the letter Sir William referred regretfully to a lost opportunity of again meeting Mr. Scott on the occasion of a recent American trip gave to the epistle a tone of familiarity which suggests the most democratic simplicity.

TO DECIDE DATE OF ANNUAL FEAST

Neither the Eclectic or Websterian Debating societies of the normal school held their regular weekly meetings last night on account of lack of attendance. Both societies will meet together today to decide on the date and where to hold their annual banquet.

The normal school science club will not hold its regular meeting tonight on account of the Edward Baxter Perry piano recital. They will meet tomorrow night with Mr. Higgins of the La Crosse Gas and Electric company as the chief speaker. Paul Toby will also give a talk on "The Geographical Development of Religion."

Baseball and track work are in full swing at the normal school now and the teams are fast rounding into shape with the excellent weather. The baseball team is scheduled to play the first game of the year next Wednesday night and will also play again on the following Saturday.

"AGGIES" DEFEAT Y. W. C. A. TEAM

Girls of the County Agricultural school last night defeated the basketball team of the local Y. W. C. A. in a hot contest in the school gymnasium. The score was 7 to 5. In a game played at La Crosse two weeks ago the local team won 23 to 10.

MRS. W. L. DITTMAN DIES AT HOSPITAL

Wife of Prominent Grocer Goes to Her Reward After Long Illness; Native of La Crosse

Mrs. Louise Katherine Dittman, wife of W. L. Dittman, well known grocer of this city, died yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at a local hospital, following an illness with a complication of diseases extending over a period of several months.

Mrs. Dittman was born in La Crosse October 20, 1874, and had lived here all her life, attending the St. Joseph parochial school. She was married September 18, 1893, to W. L. Dittman, Mr. and Mrs. Dittman making their home at 335 West avenue north.

Besides her husband, she leaves four children, Lillian, Albert, George and Robert Fred; her aged mother, Mrs. Ambrose Nettall, and two brothers, Frank and George Nettall, all of this city.

The funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the residence, 335 West avenue north. Rev. Carlos C. Rowland of the First Congregational church will officiate at the services. Burial will take place in Oak Grove cemetery.

CHURCH WORKER DECLARED INSANE

E. J. Parmenter Charged with Improper Conduct Committed to Mendota
This Morning

E. J. Parmenter, aged 49 years, prominent Caledonia Street Methodist church member and Sunday school teacher, arrested yesterday charged with improper conduct in the presence of little girls, was this morning declared insane by Doctors F. C. Suiter and George W. Luck.

The application to have him examined was made to Judge John Brindley by A. J. Eberhart, E. G. Staats and D. C. Dewey. The two former applicants are members of the church in which Parmenter was active, while Mr. Dewey is head of the City Mission.

Investigation of Parmenter's claim that he had been using morphine leads the police to believe the story groundless.

Parmenter will be taken to Mendota tomorrow.

HAY BARNS IN BOTTOMS BURNED

Fire yesterday destroyed hundreds of tons of hay belonging to J. P. Miller and other farmers living on the Minnesota side of the river. The hay was stacked and in sheds in the marsh near La Crescent. The hay began to burn sometime yesterday morning and had a considerable start when discovered. Nothing could be done to save the shed belonging to J. P. Miller, but Mr. Miller hurriedly plowed around the stacks belonging to Henry Koethe and John Schrivers, thereby cutting off the path of the flames to a large amount of hay belonging to Thomas McCaffrey and Walter McArthur, which was also destroyed. The fire is said to have started on the right of way of the Milwaukee, spreading rapidly to the stacks.

VETERAN OFFICIAL C. C. HAMILTON IS CALLED BY DEATH

funeral ritual will be conducted at the funeral services, which will be held at the Universalist church at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Rev. G. R. Longbrake will officiate.

The Knights of Pythias have made arrangements to attend the funeral in a body. The members of the G. A. R. will also attend in a body and will hold a special meeting tonight to make further arrangements. County officials today announced that all county offices will be closed tomorrow afternoon.

The active pallbearers, consisting of members of the K. of P., are as follows: B. C. Smith, John D. Wilson, C. A. Hunt, L. Kleeber, Walter Winters and A. Kirschner. Honorary pallbearers will be appointed from the ranks of the civil war veterans at tonight's meeting.

First to Die in Office

Mr. Hamilton is the first clerk of court of La Crosse to die while in office. The vacancy will be filled by appointment but county officials today differ as to whether the appointment shall be made by the district judge or by the governor. It is probable that Hardy Denniston, present deputy clerk, will receive the appointment in either case.

County Clerk Bert Jolivette today notified Chairman R. W. Davis, of the county board, of the death of Mr. Hamilton. Mr. Davis is expected to appoint a committee of supervisors to attend the funeral.

ATTENTION!

The members of Wilson Colwell Post are requested to meet at the court house tomorrow at 2 o'clock to attend the funeral of Comrade C. C. Hamilton.

tion issues a call to every suffrage group, to local and county associations throughout Wisconsin to celebrate this day.

"Mass meetings, parades, pageants, suffrage balls and picnics are being arranged in towns and cities in Wisconsin. Some associations are arranging a 'membership day' to add to the membership list of the local organizations.

"Whatever form your demonstration takes, it is desired that a nationwide suffrage resolution be passed and be presented to the congress of these United States calling upon congress to meet the demand of American women for political freedom.

"The form of this resolution will be sent to each local association from state headquarters.

"Will you decide at once upon the form your May 2nd demonstration will take and send this information to Mrs. Henry M. Youmans, president of the Wisconsin Woman Suffrage association, Waukesha, Wis.?"

"This is your opportunity to help the cause for nation-wide equal suffrage. What will you do on May 2nd?"

GETS TEN DOLLARS SLANDER VERDICT

Vernon County Poor Farm Superintendent Wins the Case Against Former Viroqua Postmaster

VIROQUA, Wis., April 16.—(Special.)—A verdict of ten dollars for slander was returned in favor of C. W. Fowell, superintendent of the Vernon county poor farm, against E. S. Goodell, former postmaster, here today. Fowell sued for $5,000.

Fowell alleged in his complaint that Goodell, a supervisor, had charged him in public with purchasing team of horses for the poor farm with the county's money, and that he had used the team on his private farm.

The case was tried yesterday, Wolfe and Wolfe of La Crosse acting as attorneys for the defendant. The jury went out last night, reaching a verdict after several hours' deliberation. The verdict was sealed and returned this morning.

A crowded courtroom heard the trial, the case having attracted much attention through the county.

NO GUARDS AT PRISON

RUSK, Texas, April 16.—As a result of the placing of the eighty-six prisoners of the Rusk penitentiary on the honor roll, the gates of the prison are no longer closed, day or night. The only officers employed are a warden, night sergeant, steward and two guards to protect prison property from outside marauders. The prisoners work on the state farm a mile from the prison.

FANATICAL FANCIES

The decision of the boxing commission that a license for holding fights cannot be transferred, while in accordance with the boxing law, makes an amendment changing this provision of the Hedding bill a necessity, according to local fight followers. They point out that even in case of the destruction of a building by fire, a fight club cannot hold bouts in another building without securing a new license.

The Redmond-Childs case which resulted in the suspension of both fighters by the Wisconsin boxing commission, gave the Hedding boxing law a test which it had never undergone since its passage. The case developed new phases in the law which up to the time it was presented to the commission had never had occasion to be used. It was the first case in which fighters were disqualified for illegal fighting. Packey McFarland was suspended for a year previously, but his suspension came after the fight, which was allowed to go the full ten rounds by the referee. McFarland was suspended for stalling. Also, the La Crosse club brought up for the first time the question of transferring a license for the use of a building for fight purposes. The commission decided that under the law a transfer could not be made, that the club must take out a new license. It was the first case, also, in which a license was applied for in connection with a building containing a saloon.

Whether an outdoor boxing match is a possibility under the Wisconsin law is understood to have been one of the questions discussed by the boxing commission at their Milwaukee meeting Monday. While Chairman Walter H. Lignier was in La Crosse investigating the Redmond-Childs fight, the local promoters told him of their plans for a fight on the Fourth of July. Lignier at that time said, according to officials of the La Crosse Athletic club, that he would take the matter up with the commission at once. They came to no decision, according to the results of their deliberations announced yesterday.

It should be said for the glee club that its members are young.

Former La Crosse Player Stars with Pirates; He Scores Two Runs on Old Teammates

TIMELY HITTING WINS FOR SOX

Pitchers' Duel Won by Chi-Twirlers; Foster Holds Senators Helpless Through Game

Pittsburgh 5; St. Louis 1

ST. LOUIS, April 16.—The Pittsburgh Nationals by timely hitting and through errors of the St. Louis club turned the tables on the local team on Wednesday and won, 5 to 1.

Errors and bases on balls helped the visitors, the home club making five errors behind Sallee, who passed six. In the five times he went to the plate Gibson was passed three times, twice intentionally with two men on bases. Twice he singled, sending a runner across the plate each time. The home team scored its run on a single by Butler, who took second on Wagner's poor throw to Konetchy, and two sacrifices. Eddie Konetchy, the Pirates new first baseman, figured in the defeat of his former team mates to the extent of a two-bagger, two runs, a stolen base and a double play unassisted. Score:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Chicago 2; Cleveland 1

CHICAGO, April 16.—Timely hitting by Chicago, coupled with the sensational fielding of Weaver, enabled the locals to make it two straight from Cleveland on Wednesday, 2 to 1. The game was a pitchers' battle between Cicotte and Steen.

The Sox jumped into the lead in the first inning after Weaver had singled, and after taking second on an infield out scored on a single by Collins. The visitors tied in the sixth on singles by Johnston and Jackson and a sacrifice hit by Turner and Lajoie's sacrifice fly. Quick work on Bodie's part in this inning gave the Chicagoans a double play which prevented the visitors making more runs. Chicago came back strong in the seventh. By bunching hits of Collins and Schalk, with Bodie's sacrifice between, they put across the winning run. Cicotte pitched his best ball in the pinches.

In the eighth inning Weaver of Chicago tripled and Coach Gleason stepped into the infield and held the runner on third base. Weaver was declared out by Umpire Sheridan. This is in accordance with the new amendment to rule 56, which says: "If a coacher at third base touch or hold a base runner at third base or a base runner who is rounding third base for home plate, the umpire shall declare such base runner out."

This is the first time this rule has been enforced in the major leagues this year.

In the seventh inning Pitcher Steen of the Cleveland club was hit on the knuckle of his pitching hand by Cicotte and was compelled to retire. It was said after the game that it would be some time before he could again play. Steen said he thought his knuckle was broken. Score:

Cleveland . . . 000001000—1 7 2
Chicago . . . 100000100—2 7 1
Batteries: Steen, Gregg and O'Neil; Cicotte and Schalk.

Boston 2; Washington 1

BOSTON, April 16.—The Senators were defeated, 2 to 1, by the Red Sox yesterday in the second game of the series. George Foster held Griffith's men to three scattered hits and would not have been scored upon but for two errors by his team mates in the second inning. The Carrigans scored their first run in the second on single by Lewis and Yerks and put over another tally in the sixth on safeties. Score:

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your Kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. Agent Chas. A. Beyschlag, Drugist, 503 Main St.

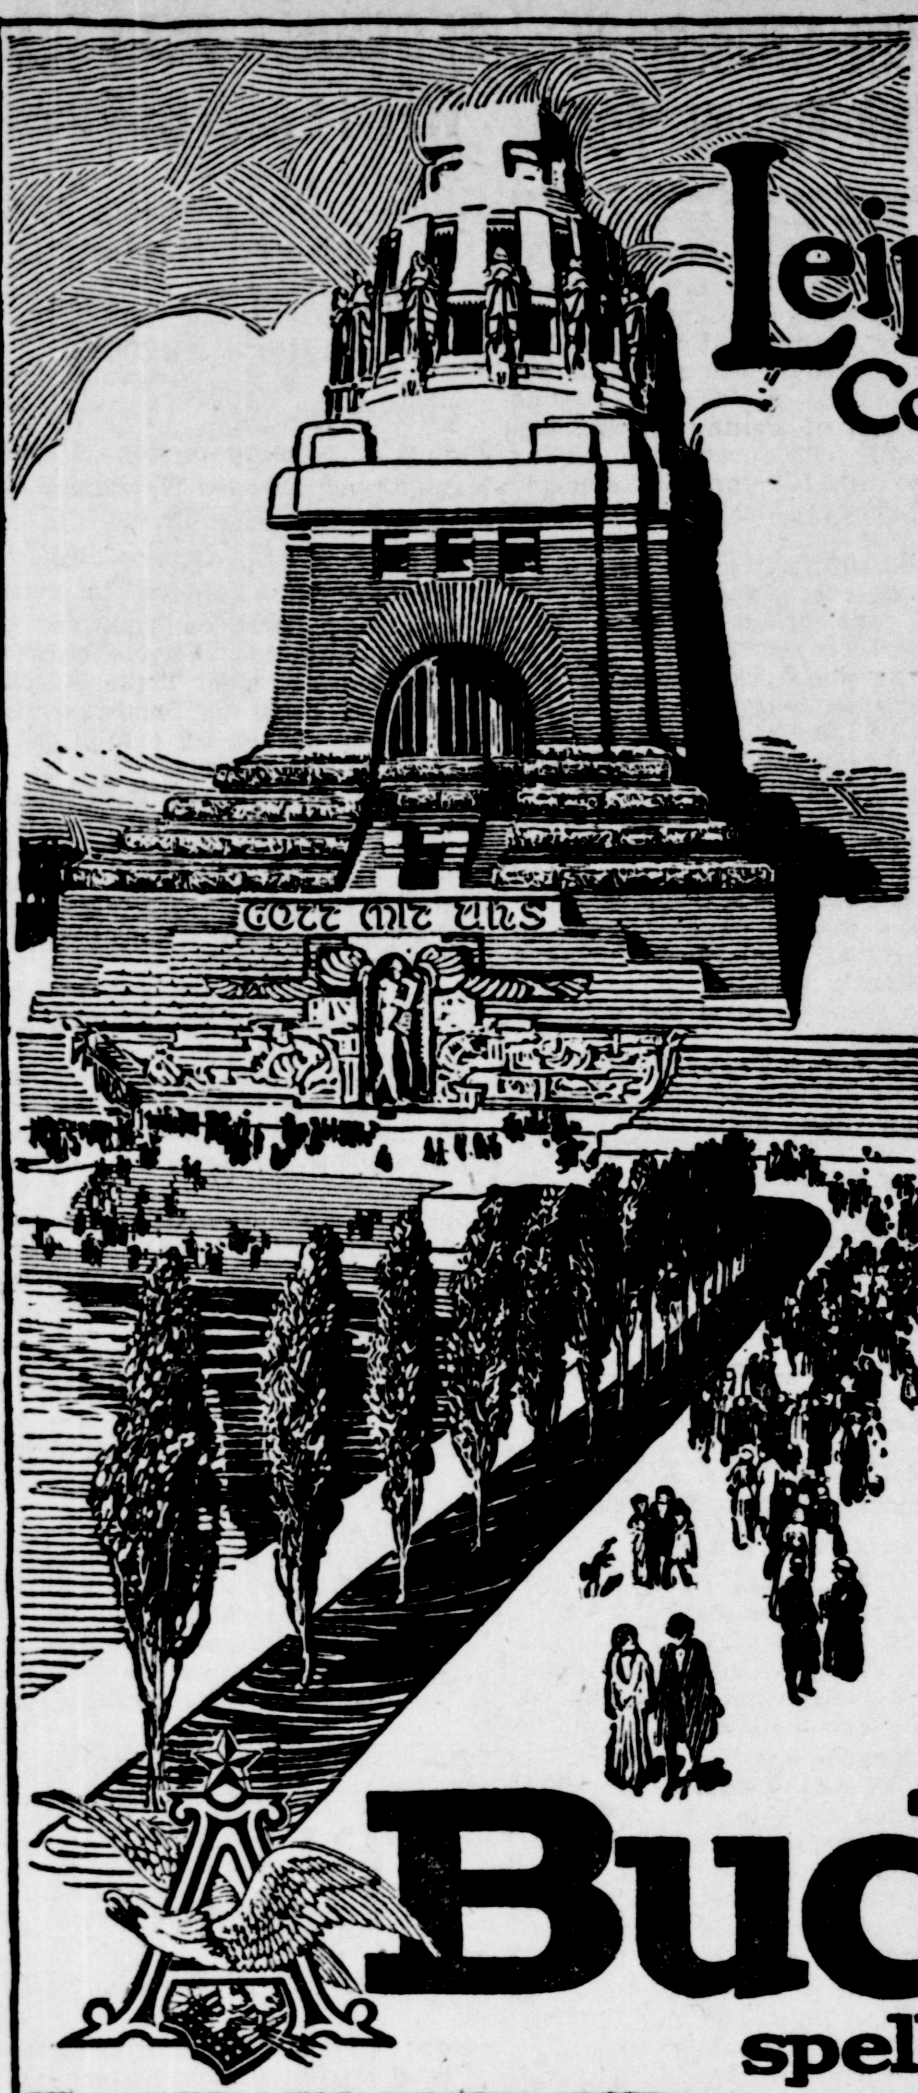

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM ROUNDS INTO SHAPE

The baseball squad is reporting on the field every day at the high school and is getting down to solid practice. The squad is dwindling slowly and will soon be cut down to the first team men and the subs. The coaches have adopted the policy of having some class or literary society team play against the first team every evening of practice for a few innings. This will enable both the first team men and the class teams to get steady practice.

The first games of the class league will take place next Saturday when the seniors and juniors and the sophomores and freshmen will play. The following Tuesday there will be a game between the Lincoln Douglas and the Lit club.

Yesterday evening the first squad had a practice game with the junior team. Both teams showed up well although the pitching was all slow and no effort was made to prevent hitting.

If black is becoming to her, the bereaved one may bear up more bravely.

EAU CLAIRE WILL HOLD TRACK MEET

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., April 16.—Officers of the Northwestern Wisconsin Intercollegiate association have announced that the third annual track meet will be held here one week previous to the state meet in Madison on May 16.

Coach Maxwell of the university will act as referee at the events which officials announce will be conducted under the rules which governed the meet last year. These are that all schools represented in the meet must be paid up members; no school may enter more than fifteen men and no more than three in any one event except in the relay, where six may be entered. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be given individual winners and loving cups to the relay winners.

Several schools in this section already have begun training.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 16.—Sam Langford rubbed a sore spot on his belt line today, but otherwise was not damaged in his eight round encounter here last night when "Kid" Cotton of New Orleans. The Kid sent a stinger just above Sam's tummy in the opening round, sending the Tar Baby to the floor. After that it was all Langford.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

BY HAL SHERIDAN

NEW YORK, April 16.—Fogs don't bother a good skipper, and while the big tent is shrouded in a dull gray mist in most of the cities of the American and National league, Admiral Gilmore is sailing strong before the breeze with the Federal gunboat and batting into the columns where box scores might repose.

Three members of the New York Giants may be expected to cut loose and paddle to the Federals in the near future, according to Gilmore. Every time Gilmore fires a gun he hits someone where they live and a raid on the Giants might cut considerable figure in the National league race.

In Philadelphia, where McGraw is tied up with his team until the present rainy season is over, it is declared the men who are about ready to flop are Doyle, Merkle and Tessaure. Other reports declare, however, that Rube Marquard approached the Federal president some time ago and expressed surprise over the fact that he had not been asked to join his party, and might yet accept an invitation if sufficient inducements are offered. All three of the Giants he has in mind asked for terms, according to Gilmore and business may be done.

This is great weather for frogs and Earl Hamilton, again of the St. Louis Browns, took advantage of it to ease back to St. Louis. Hamilton's jump to the Federals was made with much flourish, but he slipped back way out in Kansas. If President Hedges keeps Hamilton he probably will figure in the series of suits to be brought by the Feds. Gilmore declares he will bring action against five players for a total of $65,000. The players are Kilfer, Kahler, Blanding, Baumgardner and Agnew.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF FEDERALS TODAY

Chifeds Will Clash with Kansas City Club; Thousands Witness Opener at St. Louis Park

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 16.—The opening day of the Federal league, long looked for by the Kansas City bugs, arrived with a wealth of sunshine and temperature of the shiverless variety.

Joe Tinker, with his much-touted Chifeds will oppose George Stovall's Cornfed Packers.

Reservations for blocks of seats made by delegations from the Stock Yards, Board of Trade and other organizations, together with the curiosity of the faithful to see the variety of baseball provided by the Federal league, assure a large attendance.

The probable hurlers for the Chifeds will be Hendrix or Brennan, with Wilson on the receiving end. Packard or Henning and Easterly or Brown are slated as the battery for the Packers.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 16.—With all the reserved seat and box seat checks sold, local Federal magnates this morning were confident that more than 20,000 fans would assist in the dedication of Federal park by the St. Louis and Indianapolis ball teams. A perfect spring day promised real crowd. Gov. -ajor will toss the first ball.

Bob Groom, former National, will hurl against Falkenberg or Moseley of last year's pennant winners.

The gathering of local fans will be swelled by out of town delegations to see their favorites from the "old home town."

WHAT DO YOU KNOW OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH?

There are 15,000,000 Catholics in the United States. They are a power you should know about. As an American citizen, it is your duty to examine the ideals and principles of this gigantic institution. The Catholic Church in this country is a tremendous influence for good—or evil?

Which?

You are cordially invited to attend a course of lectures for non-Catholics by Rev. John E. Burke, one of the Paulist Fathers, April 19th to 26th inclusive, at 8:00 o'clock each evening at St. James Church, 1102 Caldonia Street.

Program of Lectures

Sunday, April 19th—High Mass. Is One Religion as Good as Another?
Evening—The Divinity of Christ.
Monday, April 20th—The Church and the Bible.
Tuesday, April 21st—The Church.
Wednesday, April 22nd—The Church and Intellectual Progress.
Thursday, April 23rd—The Church a Social Power.
Friday, April 24th—Can a Priest Forgive Sin?
Saturday, April 25th—The Church and Divorce.
Sunday, April 26th—High Mass. Is Christ Really Present in the Eucharist?
Evening—Catholic Ideals of Citizenship.

Question Box

Questions deposited in the boxes at the doors of the Church will be answered the following evening. Only questions relating to the Catholic Church will be considered.

EVEN MONEY FOR RITCHIE KNOCKOUT

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 16.—Willie Ritchie is a 2 to 1 favorite in the betting today for his scheduled twenty round battle with Harlem Murphy here tomorrow night. The odds are lengthening, however, and it is expected they will go to 10 to 2 by the time the men step into the ring. Some of the more enthusiastic bettors are giving even money that the champion will knock out the Harlemite.

DOCTORS TO MEET

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 16.—The Wisconsin Surgical association will meet in Milwaukee at the Hotel Pfister on April 22, 23 and 24. Addresses, clinics and social gatherings have been arranged.

WRITE STORIES FOR MOVING PICTURE PLAYS

New, Spare-time Profession for Men and Women—One Man Makes $3,500 in Six Months

Owing to the large number of new motion picture theaters which are being opened throughout the country, there is offered to the men and women of today, a new profession, namely, that of writing moving picture plays. Producers are paying from $25 to $150 for each scenario accepted, upon which they can build a photo play.

$3,500 in Six Months
As it only requires a few hours' time to construct a complete play, you can readily see the immense possibilities in this work. One man, who gave the idea a tryout, writes that he earned $3,500 in six months. It is possible for an intelligent person to meet with equal success.

One feature of the business which should appeal to everyone, is that the work may be done at home in spare time. No literary ability is required and women have as great an opportunity as men. Ideas for plots are constantly turning up, and may be put in scenario form and sold for a good price.

Gilmore Declares Big Turnouts of Fed Rooters Is Proof of the New League's Success

CHICAGO, April 16.—President James A. Gilmore of the Federal League, Owner Charles Weeghman and Secretary Williams of the Chifeds, with their wives, left for Kansas City Wednesday afternoon to attend the opening game on Thursday between the Chifeds and the Packers. They were to meet Tinker's squad Wednesday night at Princeton, Ill., where they put on an exhibition on Wednesday afternoon.

"The crowds we had at Baltimore and Pittsburgh told what the fans think of the Federal league," said Gilmore, who returned from the east earlier in the day. "With fair weather I expect the same kind of a turnout at Kansas City."

TOWNS FAVOR EXTRA SESSION

Reports Received by Attorney General Owen Show 71 Per Cent for the "Call"

MADISON, Wis., April 16.—Of the 726 town meetings that voted on the question of a special session of the legislature, 71 per cent endorsed the calling of the legislature in special session. This information was announced by Attorney General Walter C. Owen today following a compilation of the reports received to date.

There are a total of 1,181 towns in the state. Of this number 726 voted on the subject, of which 468 were in favor of the petition for a session; 189 were against and 69 towns have reported that no action was taken.

"Sixty-one per cent of all of the towns in the state have sent in reports," declared Attorney General Owen today. "Seventy-one per cent of the towns reporting favor a special session, or 40 per cent of all of the towns in the state. A majority of the towns in 19 counties of the state endorsed the petition."

WAUKESHA IS MORAL

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 16.—There was considerable pressure on the market at the opening. Prices were a shade off from Wednesday's close, but the market was not weak as on Tuesday. Selling produced recessions but not breaks.

11 a. m.—Union Pacific and Lehigh Valley fell to new low records when bears raided the market during the first hour. The general list retained a fair degree of firmness, however, and as stocks were not brought out, there was a relapse into dullness at the end of the hour. New Haven showed considerable strength.

Noon.—The pressure on Lehigh Valley and Union Pacific continued during the second hour and it will be the bears will make more determined effort to break prices further for the purpose of covering.

2 p. m.—There was considerable activity on a decline after mid-day and the result was a cleaning up of liquidation in many of the active stocks. New York Central sold off 1 1/4 to 8 3/4, a new low record for the year. U. S. steel was well supported.

There was some covering of shorts in the late afternoon due to the belief that Huerta would back down and salute the flag, but the bears failed to take advantage of the movement.

HOLD MAN FOR MURDER

MILWAUKEE, April 16.—The police today were convinced that Mrs. Frances Krees, found dead Monday morning with a bullet wound in her left side, was murdered. They have a man in custody for whom they expect to issue a warrant charging murder. As in the recent Musso case, important testimony will be by Mrs. Krees's nine year old daughter Irene. She told the officers that a man came to the Krees home Saturday evening. He stayed over Sunday, quarreling with the woman and threatening the children with a revolver.

LOCATE FACTORY AT M'GREGOR

When Building Burns at Lansing Axe Handle Plant Moves to McGregor

M'GREGOR, Iowa, April 16.—The Curtis Brothers' Handle manufacturing business will move from Lansing to McGregor. The company has rented the building next the Electric light plant on the McGregor-North McGregor road and will occupy it as soon as needed repairs have been made. The building is well adapted for the business. It stands beside a side track and also is close enough to the river bank so that the raw material may easily be transferred from barges. Electric power will be used to run the machinery. The sawdust, shavings, and other refuse will be blown directly from the factory into the furnaces of the electric plant.

The Curtis family has been making axe and hammer handles for three generations. The father and grandfather before him made them by hand. The three sons who now conduct the business were born and bred to handle making. The handles they are manufacturing, sixty different kinds of them, have no superior on the market. Within the last two or three years the business has expanded rapidly almost doubling itself within the past six months. The company is now shipping all through the middle west, selling to railroads, manufacturing concerns and wholesale and retail dealers. White oak is used exclusively. The company has found there is an almost unlimited supply of it in northeastern Iowa and southwestern Wisconsin and anticipate expanding their business considerably in the near future.

The factory at Lansing burned down about a month ago. The fine advantages of McGregor as a shipping point have influenced the brothers to move to this city instead of starting up again at Lansing.

Remodel Hotel

Since the first of the year the Berry hotel at North McGregor has been in the hands of carpenters, painters, decorators and plumbers. $3,000 has been spent in fixing over the building and in the purchase of new furnishings and fixtures. The work is now completed and the "Berry" is unquestionably one of the best equipped most modern hostleries in northeastern Iowa. For the size of the town it has no equal it is claimed in the state. Hot and cold water have been put into nearly all the bedrooms. The plumbing has been overhauled and an electric motor with automatic pump and steel pressure tanks has been installed. The old drop electric lights have been replaced by handsome brass fixtures. The dining room has been prettily decorated and the whole interior has been painted. A writing room has been added to the lobby. Every bed in the establishment has been fitted with box springs and Ostermoor tops. New rugs have been laid in all the rooms.

North McGregor situated as it is at the meeting point of three divisions of the Milwaukee road, is an unusually good hotel town. Many passengers are obliged to wait over there between trains. The enterprise of J. Berry, owner and manager of the Berry Hotel, has provided accommodations which from now on will make the wait a pleasure to the traveling public.

Church Society Meets
The annual meeting of the Congregational society was held at the Congregational church Monday evening. Q. A. Sloane was elected to succeed himself as trustee, A. Widman was chosen secretary, and J. A. Ramage, treasurer. The matter of building an addition to the church to make room for social gatherings was brought up and referred to a committee who will look into the cost and practicability of building rooms in the basement of the church.

To Hold Mission

A week's mission will be held at St. Mary's church beginning with Sunday, April 19th and closing on the following Sunday evening. Rev. W. J. Devine will conduct the mission.

County Road Engineer Tourtelott spent Monday in the city in conference with Contractor Boyle on matters pertaining to the West McGregor highway. A mile and a quarter of macadam road will be built from the west limits of town west on the North Iowa Pike this summer. The cement culverts have been built and work on grading began this week.

The Boys' band gave an Easter dancing party Monday evening for the purpose of raising money to purchase uniforms. About $100 was taken in.

To Play Lansing

The Lansing High school baseball team will play the McGregor High school boys at Turner park Saturday morning.

Rev. Peikert, professor of history at St. Joseph's college at Dubuque, spent Sunday here the guest of his mother. He assisted Father Downing in the Easter services at St. Mary's church.

F. D. Hatch is in Cedar Rapids this week attending the State Grocery Men's convention.

Miss Jessie Donaldson and nephew, Dicky Donaldson, returned to Minneapolis Monday morning.

The Clayton County Medical society will hold its annual meeting at the hospital in this city Wednesday, April 22.

Bright Prospects.

Manager (tiring office boy)—Well, my lad, what do you say? Applicant—Before I take the job, sir, I'd like to know if there's any chance of promotion. Manager—Well, as to that, it depends on the boy. The last one we had here owned the whole place before he'd been with us two months.—Boston Transcript.

Nightmare.

Nightmare, according to one theory, is due to a suspension of power in the muscles of inspiration. The weight, the want of breathing and the sense of suffocation seem to prove this, and a still greater proof is that after the sufferer can speak only one syllable the paroxysm is at an end. The word cannot be spoken without breath. Breath cannot come out of the lungs until it is brought in nor brought in without the action of the muscles of the breast and ribs. Nothing can be more simple than the cause. It is the temporary paralysis of the pectoral muscles, through the medium of the nerves which supply them with feeling.

Lucky is the man who doesn't depend upon his luck.
